Notice of Privacy Practices

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN ACCESS THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

_____, a practitioner at East-West Integrative Medicine, understands the importance of privacy and is committed to maintaining the confidentiality of your medical information. This Notice of Privacy Practices is required by law to inform you of how your health information will be protected, how the Practice may use or disclose your protected health information (PHI) to carry out treatment, payment, or healthcare operations (TPO), and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights to access and control your protected health information. Protected health information is information about you, including demographic information, that may identify you and that relates to your past, present, or future physical or mental health or condition and related healthcare services.

A. How this Practitioner May Use or Disclose Your Protected Health Information

This Practitioner may collect health information about you and stores it in a chart and/or on a computer. This is your medical record. The medical record is the property of the Practitioner, but the information in the record belongs to you. The sections below outline the purposes for which the law permits the practitioner to use or disclose your health information.

1. Treatment: I use medical information about you to provide your medical care. I disclose medical information to our employees, associates, and others who are involved in providing the care you need. For example, I may share or disclose your protected health information with other practitioners or other healthcare providers to provide, coordinate, or manage your healthcare and any related services. You will be requested to sign an Authorization to Release Medical Information should this occur.

2. Payment: Your protected health information will be used, as needed, to obtain payment for your healthcare services. For example, I would need to give your health plan the information it requires before it will pay me. I may also disclose information to other healthcare providers to assist them in obtaining payment for services they have provided to you.

3. Healthcare Operations: I may use or disclose your protected health information, as needed, to operate my practice. For example, I may use and disclose this information to review and improve the quality of care I provide. I may use and disclose this information as necessary for medical reviews, legal services, and audits, including fraud and abuse detection and compliance programs and business planning and management. I may also share your medical information with my "business associates," such as billing service, or others that may perform administrative services for me. I will have a written contract with each of these business associates that contains terms required of them to protect the confidentiality of your medical information. Although federal law does not protect health information that is disclosed to someone other than another healthcare provider, health plan, or healthcare clearinghouse, under California law, all recipients of healthcare information are prohibited from re-disclosing it, except as specifically required or permitted by law. I may also share your information with other healthcare providers, healthcare clearinghouses, or health plans that have a relationship with you, when they request this information to help them with their quality assessment and improvement activities; efforts to improve health or reduce healthcare costs; review of competence, qualifications, and performance of healthcare professionals; training programs; accreditation, certification or licensing activities; or healthcare fraud and abuse detection and compliance efforts.

4. Appointment Reminders, Follow-up and Sign in Sheets: In addition, I may use a sign-in sheet at the registration desk where you will be asked to sign your name and indicate your physician. I may also call you by name in the waiting room when your physician is ready to see you. I may use or disclose your protected health information, as necessary, to contact you to remind you of your appointment by email or telephone, or by messages left on an answering machine, voice mail, or with the person who answers your telephone.

5. Marketing: I may contact you regarding case management or care coordination, to give information about our services, or to direct or recommend other treatments or health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you. I may periodically send a postal mail or email card, letter, notice, or other written information or small gift to the address provided by you.

6. Required by Law: Under the law, I must make disclosures to you and when required by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to investigate or determine my compliance with the requirements of Section 164.500. I may use or disclose your protected health information in the following situations without your authorization. These situations include: Required By Law, Public Health issues as required by law, Communicable Diseases, Health Oversight, Abuse or Neglect, Food and Drug Administration requirements, Legal Proceedings, Law Enforcement, Coroners, Funeral Directors, Organ Donation, Research, Criminal Activity, Military Activity and National Security, Workers' Compensation, Inmates, Required Uses and Disclosures. Additionally, I may disclose your protected health information, without a written Consent from you, in the following instances:

- a. De-identified Information – Information that does not identify you and, even without your name, cannot be used to identify you.
- b. Personal Representative – To a person who, under applicable law, has the authority to represent you in making decisions related to your healthcare.
- c. Emergency Situations – For the purpose of obtaining or rendering emergency treatment to you provided that I attempt to obtain your Consent as soon as possible, or to a public or private entity authorized by law or by its charter to assist in disaster relief efforts for the purpose of coordinating your care with such entities in an emergency situation.
- d. Communication Barriers – If, due to substantial communication barriers or inability to communicate, I have been unable to obtain your Consent and the Practice determines, in the exercise of its professional judgment, that your Consent to receive treatment is clearly inferred from the circumstances.

7. Workers' Compensation: I may disclose your health information as necessary to comply with Workers' Compensation laws. For example, to the extent your care is covered by Workers' Compensation, I will make periodic reports to your employer about your condition. I am also required by law to report cases of occupational injury or occupational illness to the employer or workers' compensation insurer.

8. Change of Ownership: In the event that my practice is sold or merged with another organization, your health information or record will become the property of the new owner, although you will maintain the right to request that copies of your health information be transferred to another doctor or medical group.

9. Research: I may disclose your health information to researchers in conducting research for which your written authorization is not required as approved by an Institutional Review Board or privacy board, in compliance with governing law.

B. When This Medical Practice May Not Use or Disclose Your Health Information

Except as described in this Notice of Privacy Practices, this medical practice will not use or disclose health information that identifies you without your written authorization. Other permitted and required uses and disclosures will be made only with your consent, authorization, or opportunity to object unless required by law. You may revoke this authorization, at any time, in writing, except to the extent that your physician or the physician's practice has taken an action in reliance on the use or disclosure indicated in the authorization. I am unable to take back any disclosure I have already made with your permission.

C. Your Health Information Rights

1. Right to Inspect and Copy: You have the right to inspect and copy your protected health information, with limited exception. To access your medical information, you must submit a written request detailing the specific information to which you want access and whether you want to inspect it or obtain a copy of it. I will charge a reasonable fee, as allowed by California law. If the file is large, I may require the use of a copy service for this purpose. You will pay the cost of this service. I may deny your request under limited circumstances; however, you may request a review of our denial. Under federal law, however, you may not inspect or copy the following records: psychotherapy notes; information compiled in reasonable anticipation of, or use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding; and protected health information that is subject to law that prohibits access to protected health information.
2. Right to Amend or Supplement: You have the right to request that I amend your health information that you believe is incorrect or incomplete. You must make a request to amend in writing and include the reasons you believe the information is inaccurate or incomplete. I am not required to change your health information, and, if denied, I will provide you with information about this medical practice's denial and how you can disagree with the denial. If I deny your request for amendment, you have the right to request that we add to your record a statement of up to 250 words concerning any statement or item you believe to be incomplete or incorrect. I may prepare a rebuttal to your statement and will provide you with a copy of any such rebuttal.
3. Right to Request Special Privacy Protections: You have the right to request certain restrictions of your protected health information. Your written request must state the specific restriction requested and to whom you want the restriction to apply. You may also request that any part of your protected health information not be disclosed to family members or friends who may be involved in your care or for notification purposes as described in this Notice of Privacy Practices. I reserve the right to accept or reject your request and will notify you of my decision. If your physician believes it is in your best interest to permit use and disclosure of your protected health information, your protected health information will not be restricted. You then have the right to use another healthcare professional.
4. Right to Request Confidential Communication: You have the right to request that you receive confidential communication or your health information from me in a specific way or to a specific location. For example, you may ask that I send information to a particular e-mail account or to your work address. I will comply with all reasonable requests submitted in writing which specify how or where you wish to receive communication.
5. Right to an Accounting of Disclosure: You have the right to receive an accounting of certain disclosures I have made, if any, of your protected health information except as is not required by law, or pursuant to your written authorization, or for disclosures provided to you.
6. You have the right to obtain a paper copy of this Notice of Privacy Practices upon request.

D. Changes to this Notice of Privacy Practices

I reserve the right to change the terms of this notice and will inform you in person or by mail of any changes. You then have the right to object or withdraw as provided in this notice. Until such amendment is made, I am required by law to comply with this Notice. After an amendment is made, the revised Notice of Privacy Practices will apply to all protected health information that I maintain, regardless of when it was created or received. I will keep a copy of the current Notice posted in our reception area.

E. Complaints

Please direct any complaints about this Notice of Privacy Practices or how this practice handles your health information to me as Privacy Officer. If you are not satisfied with the manner in which I handle a complaint, you may submit a formal complaint to:

Secretary of Health and Human Services - Office of Civil Rights

You will not be penalized for filing a complaint.

Informed Consent To Treatment and Treatment Policies

I, _____

print first and last name

give consent to receive acupuncture treatments and other procedures associated with Traditional Chinese Medicine by Marnie McCurdy, LAc., and /or any guest acupuncturist working under her supervision. I understand that the methods of treatment may include, but are not limited to: acupuncture, moxibustion, cupping, electric stimulation, Tui-Na massage, herbal medicine, and nutritional counseling.

I have been informed that acupuncture is a safe method of treatment but that it may have side effects, including, but not limited to: bruising, numbness or tingling near the needling sites that may last a few days, and dizziness or fainting. Bruising is a common side effect of cupping. Other risks of acupuncture treatment could include (although unusual and extremely rare) spontaneous miscarriage, nerve damage, and organ puncture (including lung puncture - pneumothorax).

Although the clinic uses sterile, disposable needles and maintains a clean and safe environment, infection is another possible risk of treatment. Risks associated with moxibustion treatment may include burns and/or scarring, although unusual and rare. I understand that while this document describes major risks of treatment, other unanticipated side effects may occur. I do not expect the acupuncturist to be able to anticipate all possible complications from treatment, but I do wish to rely on the acupuncturist to exercise judgment during the course of treatment which based upon the facts known and my condition, is in my best interests.

The herbs and nutritional supplements (which are from plant, animal, and mineral sources) that have been recommended are safe in the practice of Chinese Medicine, although some may be toxic if not taken as prescribed. Other possible side effects of herbal treatments are nausea, gas, stomach ache, vomiting, headache, diarrhea, rashes, hives, and tingling of the tongue. I understand that some herbs may be inappropriate during pregnancy.

I understand that the herbs need to be prepared and the tea consumed according to the instructions provided verbally and in writing. The herbs may have an unpleasant taste or smell. I will immediately notify my practitioner of any unpleasant effects associated with the consumption of herbal teas or products.

- I will notify my practitioner if I am or become pregnant.
- I agree to follow all treatments only as recommended/prescribed. If I am experiencing any side effects or difficulties, I will notify my practitioner as soon as possible.
- I understand the practitioner and clinic staff may review my lab reports, but all my records will be kept strictly confidential and will not be released without my consent.

Informed Consent To Treatment and Treatment Policies

By voluntarily signing below, I am demonstrating that I have read (or have had read to me) this consent to treatment and treatment policies, have been told about the risks of acupuncture and other procedures, and have had the opportunity to ask questions. I understand this consent is intended to cover my entire course of treatment for my present and future conditions for which I seek treatment at this office.
